Letter from the Editor

Dear Islanders,

Now that October has rolled around and everyone has settled in after a relaxing Eid holiday, we have a few announcements taking us to the end of 2016.

If you are celebrating Halloween this month, please be safe walking around during the evening. If you are open to trick or treating, please keep your lights on.

October brings awareness to Breast Cancer, and we would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge the strength of all women who are survivors and warriors. It is also a milestone achievement that Bahrain has welcomed its first London Breast Care Center; a consultant breast and oncology surgery center.

Finally, this month's Photo of the Month winner has won a Friday Brunch for two at Muju Restaurant and Lounge. Turn to page 6 to find out who!

Sincerely,

The Amwaj Team

How long have you been in the field of hospitality and hotel management?

How did you start? I have been in the hospitality industry for the last 25 years. My first step into the “wonderland of Hospitality industry” started as a Management Trainee within Ramses and Nile Hilton and Sheraton El Gazirah Hotels in Cairo to fulfill my practical training during the study at AUC. After graduation, being second in my class and getting a scholarship at Cornell University in Ithaca, New York, USA, I decided to take advantage of my two years in the States and obtained a couple of individual master degrees related to Hospitality. My first real job was in Dubai – UAE, end of 1993 when I joined the opening team of Ritz Carlton Dubai as Front Office Assistant Manager and moved 2 years later to join Hilton Dubai as Sales Manager. In January 1999, I started the journey with Starwood Hotels & Resorts where I spent 16 years of my career. I joined Sheraton Abu Dhabi Resort as Front Office Manager, I was later promoted to Director of Rooms at the same hotel. I then transferred within the company in 2002 to be the Director of Sales & Marketing of Sheraton Tashkent, followed by moving to Algeria in 2005 to open Sheraton Oran in 2006 to open Sheraton Aleppo in Syria, and was promoted in 2007 as Area Director of Sales & Marketing Starwood Hotels in Saudi Arabia. That same year I moved to Le Meriden

Kuwait Hotels as Deputy General Manager, a year later I was promoted as General Manager for both Le Meridien Hotels in Kuwait. I stayed in Kuwait until 2010, then moved to Dubai as Regional Director of Sales & Marketing for one year, and my last destination before coming to Bahrain in 2015, was the General Manager of Palmyra Hotel by Le Meridien in Marrakech – Morocco. I enjoyed the work, and the rest, as they say, is history.

Tell us about Gulf Residence Amwaj, what facilities does it have for its guests?

Elegant and chic, this glamorous hotel is setting new standards of comfort in Bahrain, offering our guests an oasis of luxury with numerous unique design features along with a unique blend of traditional Arab hospitality in the most contemporary and cosmopolitan environment. Dressed to impress, our suites and residences use a palette of exquisite materials, soothing lighting and warm colours to create chic, serene living spaces. Hand painted motifs walls that sprinkle a hint of Middle Eastern tradition into the contemporary design. The 173 luxurious suites and residences, made up of 2 studio units, 42 one-bedrooms, 107 two- bedrooms and 18 three- bedroom Diplomatic Suites. We also offer 4 luxurious 4- bedroom penthouse suites, all with balconies, most with spectacular views of the sea. Our accommodation offers avant-garde technological features such as a flat screen IPTV television, video intercom and complimentary wireless internet, a fully equipped kitchen, and laptop sized safety box.

Why was Amwaj chosen as the latest setting for Gulf Hotel Group?

The Gulf Residence Amwaj is one of the new projects in line with the Gulf Hotels group’s expansion strategy of adding hotels and luxury apartments in key locations. Amwaj created something special; an island surrounded by tranquil azure waters, clear blue skies, fresh breeze, providing a relaxing lifestyle for residents and visitors, and a community of people with different cultures living in close harmony. An island flowing with waterways and lagoons connected to the sea, while still being conveniently located close to the bustling city of Manama, for that, Amwaj Islands is a fantastic location for both long stay and short stay visitors to Bahrain. Gulf Residence Amwaj is one of the latest additions to join the group’s exclusive collection of unique independent properties and will not only offer guests every comfort, but also excellent value for money. The service will mirror the group’s core philosophy of providing five-star services for four-star pricing.

What would you say is the top three positive aspects of this hotel?

Our main positive aspects are the newly opened Gulf Commercial Laundry Service Shop: this new state-of-the-art laundry provides the Gulf Hotel’s and Amwaj Islands clients with an enhanced level of service and accommodates greater volumes of business, thereby providing a five star laundry service to many organizations in Bahrain. Secondly, the hotel has a tempting variety of places to eat, with a breath taking pool restaurant and a peaceful café in which to re-energize. The hotels’ three food and beverage facilities combine innovation with style and comfort. With a large new menu full of tempting d’oeuvres, generous classics, delicious main courses, plentiful sharing dishes and mouth-watering desserts. And thirdly, the Recreation at Gulf Residence Amwaj gives our guests the opportunity to leave the demands of the real world, and escape to an oasis of well-being, relaxation, and serenity.

What are some of the strategies you had implement in the past to increase customer profitability?

The mission I set for my hotel is all about making sure that guests are happy, we have grown our repeat guest percentage from 20% to over 69%. The goal is also to continually create new ideas to keep guests “addicted” to the hotel, which isn’t too difficult since the minute our guests try it, they love it.

What do you like to do in your spare time?

My spare time is allocated entirely to my wife and my son, I owe them a lot of my success. So my weekends are usually dedicated to my time with them to go to the beach. My son and I share a hobby of diving and snorkeling, and of course dine out as a family.

Resident of the Month

Alexandra Novik Khamis is an artist, art teacher, art mentor and art guide. Born in the Ukraine in 1987, Mrs. Khamis showed great interest in painting and drawing very early on in her childhood. Her parents were encouraging and wanted her to pursue her interest in the arts and further develop her art skills.

At the age of 10, the Tala Island resident started attending Smolensk Arts School, and at the age of 16 was admitted to the Department of Fine Arts and Graphics of Smolensk State University. Five years later, university studies and self-development gave her refined skills and a profound knowledge of the arts schools and techniques. This in turn helped the budding artist to find her own artistic style and vision of "life in the arts".

During the course of her artistic career, Mrs. Khamis took a number of master classes from famous Russian artists and started learning more about realism – her favorite artistic school. Using her new techniques, she organized a few exhibitions locally and proved to be a talented teacher while working in school.

Mrs. Khamis's unique style was praised by many of her teachers and treated as a deviation from the classics by the others, but it was recognized by all.

The realism artist has been a resident of Bahrain and Amwaj Islands for the past 7 years and has continued her love for the arts here on the islands. During this time, she opened her own art studio and organized several exhibitions. She was also recognized as one of the most successful business woman in the Gulf, created educational art books and painted more than 200 artworks. Mrs. Khamis's style is an advocate of surrealistic realism with a touch of impressionism.
